HONGRONG, SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 1895. CHRISTIAN MISSIONS IN CHINA.

--- COMMUNICATED.

PART II .- SUGGESTED REFORMS. There is not such a lengthy summary because the indication of a defect is regarded reform. Of the points which have been emphasized, or thrown into the shape of counsel, let it suffice to mention: (1) number of fereign missionaries on the field. favourable times shall dawn. (2) Construct the native Church in a way which will harmonize with the national customs and preferences of the Chinese. Require no change which essential Christianity does not demand. (3) Invite the Chinese authorities establishments, Buch as schools, orphanages, and hospitals. (4) Let the independent and individualistic condition of Protestant Mishaving a representative Conneil and president at its head; such Council to have suthority Wesievan Mermonist Church.-Chaplain. to legislate for a united policy, and be for Rev. Wm. Musson .- Divine Service at 10.30 all acctions the Senate to which governments may send their instructions or recommendations, and grant audiences for consultation. (5) Exercise scrapulous care that Mission Reports shall contain the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth.

Such are some of the ideas and convictions which have lately found utterance. Critics have not been unobservant of what is The N. P. s. s. Victoria left Tucoma for praiseworthy in Christian missions, and to their critical remarks they have frequently added words of esteem for the personal excellence and devotion of workers known to them and of belief in the value of the work which is being done. But their rôle primarily is to disclose grievances which need. redress. And as in these days a search light of impartial investigation is turned upon everything which is of public interest, it is not athing for wonder nor for regret that missions in China, involving as they do so many grave issues, should have been subjected to crucial, uncompromising scrutiny. Be it granted that even intelligent public opinion may at times be in error, the truth remains that the pressure of public opinion is wholesome, and its recommendations are always worthy of candiductice. Take the question of the foreign atuff of not for short of 2,000 strong, and if equally distributed would give an average of about one hundred persons for each of the eighteen provinces. To the general reader, remembering the hostility of the Chinese, their dread of foreign buildings, their suspicion as to the missionery's purpose and dislike for his presence, and the fact that the residence of missionaries in the interior of China has often culminated in attacks upon their property and lives, it will appear to be the essence of sound judgment that ayunds on the field should notify their respective Home Committees of these things, and commend as a present policy the limitation of the foreign agency to the smallest number necessary for the general superintendence of the work. I is a mistake to suppose, as some advocates do, that the time-when China is smarting under her defeat by Japan is fayourable for the advant of more foreign missionaries. The day may come when patives of all classes will be prepared to receivethem with gladness to every part of the empire; to the the antime appeals for an increase of the sinff may judictionely be postponed for an indefinite period. Can there be any doubt as to the wisdom of choosing a policy which will accomplish the diffusion of Christian truth and useful knowledge in China with less of friction and turinoll, and in the judgment Eventong :- Pasima Gore, Wicken, Croft, of some with better speed, in preference to continuing one which is seen to be fruight with much of destructive riot, bloodshed, and international complication ? Und Your policy disturbances must arise; they aftend efforta for progressive change in every chiere; but what depost be entirely eliminoted may be appreciably diminished by the adoption of a less estensibly coexcive. Though equally effective, plan of campaign. The bishops superintendents, and leaders on the field should look to this; their responsibility Perhaps the fourth suggestion above quotand placed on beard ship at Hongkong | ed. undoubtedly more difficult of achievement than any of the others, rathe highest of all in urgency and importance. For the diversity of secis, and the consequent waste, confursion, weakness, and rivalry, the chief blame lies with the Home churches. There are several Missions on the field that would nordially welcome, and loyelly submit to, a general and wide-reaching scheme of federation. All Epropean and Atcerioun Heards ought to be pointedly informed of this supreme need, and their approval of a corporate alliance of the Protestant Missions HONGKONG." emphatically solicited in the interests of 6 p.m.:—Hymne, 153, 207, 348, 350 j. Christianity in Chips. Economy of money Paalms, L-LII. And all signed messages addressed and power, harmony and co-operation, a leadership for all, these and other benefits would accrue from this reform. It is easy to conceive also that there would necessarily expected here on or about 6 p.a. on the result a decided increase in Mission auchess. 13th inst. and that the native church would soon acquire a position of respectability in the eyes of the Chiners community at large, and authorities. It is not needful here to tough upon other about the Mile instant. toplor raised in the foregoing list; those who care to will be able to extract what may The China Mutual Company's new steamer be of service. In Hongkong undether parts of the East, within the last few months, slucere, or mure unsulmous than were both the expression of public sympathy for those upon whom the trigedy in the Fukien province fell most heavily, and the outburst of public indignation against the perpetrators of the mastage and trainer the government which is mainly responsible for it and for anti-foreign riots in the other provinces. That all missions is have appreciated this apontaneous display of sympathy and inused for any purpose than that of opinin. apportune at this time to suggest that the agents now in China about and this what ing Acceted Waters, an auch Boules are remain of the party prepossessions with the forming, between 3 and 10.80 be accorded a more honourable status by the ground for the presumption that missionaries if they frankly heed the oriticisms, think measures are within their power to command. The history of the commercial and political relations of foreign countries with China demonstrates how difficult it is for Chinese officials to see right except in the gleam of the foreign sword, of to do right except at the call of foreign armaments. In the matter of Christian Missions the Chinese will not respect Treaty slipulations, nor keep opposition within legal limits, unless the Foreign Powers, by enforcing the adequate punishment of effenders both high and low, convince them that treaties are not dead letters. Conciliatory schemes by the Missions will be of only cursory value, if the Chicese masses and classes are permitted to ioler that mission agoute and their converts are excluded from the protection of civil law and common justice. There is resson to believe, however, that the Fereiga Powers are now bent upon securing the full observance by China of Treaty obligations. It would therefore be a timely and laudable thing for the missionary community, throughout the Middle Kingdom, to zeniously apply itself to the task of mission reform; especially to the granting such possible concessions to the wishes of the native government, and to the venerable outoms of the action, as may conduce to the establishment of a relationship more favourable to missionary works of evangelization, education, and philanthropy.

Truth stated on the 3rd October: 'The proceeds of the Russo-Chinese loan are still lodged with the Bank of England to the tone of ten millions sterling.' Is it porsible that a loss raised in France by Russia on behalf of China has to be sent to England for safe custody ! This savours somewhat of a paradox, surely. Of course, the Bornoo authorities had no responsibility in the massacre. They mersly showed their willingness, in the interests of mutual safety, to assist the Spanish authorities in the erest of the deserters, who had previously murdered their officers on one of the Sulu islands. Wa find the following reference to the manacre in a Bome paper !- A telegram om Manila states that the orew of the banish croiser Marques Duero, in an enunter on the coast of Birneo, killed thteen of the rebels who recently killed a anich captain of Infantry in the Salu lands. Seven others were taken to Sulu, tried, and executed. The Captain-General coar. of the Philippines praises the good officera of the British authorities of North Bomeo on this occision. It is not mentioned it will be seen, that "the eighteen robels" were butchered in cold blood after they had given up their wespons and surrendered at discretion.

THURSDAY'S PROMENADE CON-OERT AT THE VOLUNTEER HEAD QUARTERS.

TO AID THE LONDON FOOR. This proved another decided success of the season, for everything, and everybody were in the best of humours. The weather was kind, and instead of shutting down cold, as it promised to do the day before, the evening was just cool enough to be comfortable; all the same, it was a little toolate in the year; this, however, we_ understand, could not be helped for the many previous Concerts were all fixtures and no arrangements could be come to regarding an earlier date without clubing. The grounds were prettily got up and all the arrangements were perfect in every

THE MAT SALLEH REBELLION IN NORTH BORNEO.

(From a Correspondent.) About the 18th of August last, the town of Sandakan, in British North Borneo, was visited by an armed flotille, consisting of twenty well-armed native prahus, under the command of a native shief called Mat Salleh. Several Baju chiefs were among the warriors, whose object in visiting Sandarkan was to interview the representatives of the Company, and ask for redress for their wrongs. Mat Sallah had previously been accoused of sheltering bad characters, and had received a summons to appear before the Court in Sandakan. His previous knowledge of the law courts had convinced the character of his Commander for the him apparently that two wrongs do not make one right, and he wished to have his case tried on what he considered a level basis. This sudden invesion during the most positive, emphatic, and united denial time the Governor was away caused great of the cruel charge which has been made consternation among the citizens, so much so, that old guns and revolvers of all kinds went up to a fabulous price. The police force was not sufficient to cope with the difficulty, and the Officer in charge deemed it advisable to use perauasive means to prerendered by Sir N. O'Conor to British | vent trouble. SIR MERCELES AND SIR WILLIAM. Sir William, Robinson, brother of Sir Hercules, who has just resigned the Governorship of Western Australia, was privato secretary to Sir Hercules when the latter was Governor of Hongkong, Accord. ing to a Colonial story, reprinted by South Africa, strained relations existed between the brothers for a time, owing to the sonior. Sir Hercules, exclaiming, when the junior received his first Viceregal appointment, What! My brother Bill madeagovernor! I never thought he would be anything but a fiddler.' Sir William is an accomplished musician and composer.

ONE FOR THE AMATEUR SPORTSMAN. From the sime authority we take a shooting story showing the little consideration which the Scotch keeper entertains for the amateur sportsman. A novice from the South was out on a moor in the West Highlands the other day, and, having unsuccessfully fired twice at a covey of birds that rose less than twenty yards ahead, he exclaimed excitedly, 'It's strange that none of them fell. I'm positive some of them must have been struck.' 'I dinna doot,' returned the keeper, with a sarcastic gris, that they were struck wi astonishment at gettin' of sae easy.' THE UNDERTAKER IN THE ANTIPODES.

We see in a Tasmanian paper that an underlaker in a country town not a hundred miles from Lausceston announces that he has supplied a long-felt want in the district by securing a hearse of the latest design, and is now prepared to carry outlies work on terms to suit these depressed times. That, as our contemporary remarks, is not at all bad in the way of grim humour, but it is hardly equal to that of the gentleman who advertised, 'Why live and be miserable, when you can be comfortably buried to each Floor, in charge of experienced for three guineas?"

THE 'OLD MAN OF HOY' IN THE MARKET. The Orkney island of Hoy, which comprises about forly thousand acres, is for sale. Hoy rises abruptly from thesea, and consists mainly of a mountain baving different eminences or peake. Towards its north-western extremity may be observed the famous * Ult Man of Hoy,' a large pillar of rock, about 300 febt in height. It was of this rock that the late Sir Robert Hamilton used to tell a story. Once at a dinner in the West End he overlieard an Englishman ask of a visitor to Shelland if he had seen the 'Old Man of Hoy.' 'Oh, yes,' was the reply, 'and a very cheerfulold man

I see by the papers that they expect to be able to produce real diamonds by it. Perhaps they may; marvels never cesso. But we will wait till they do before we crow over that job. Up to this time, anyway, everything that is both valuable and useful is the fruit of hard work. Even diamonds are mostly got out of rocky mines. And, within reasonable limits, it is good for us to have to work. Tou shillings honestly earned is better for a man that twenty in the shape of a legacy. The best condition of things for any country would be when fur wages could be carned straight along, without less or deduction for any reason. But in the present aspect of human affairs this is impossible. Whose fault it is we caunoi now discuss. One source of loss, however, is plain shough and some remedy for it ought to be found. In England and Wates every working man averages ten days of illness per year, making the total loss of wages from this cause about £16,000,000 a year. We are talking of the average, you see. But insamuch as all working-men are not ill overy year, this average does not fairly show the auffering and loss of those who are itt. In any given year many will lose no time at ell, while others may lose individually from tendays to six months, each. No charity, no savings, no income from clubs, &c., can make up for thiseven in money alone, to say nothing of the pain and thomistry. Allading to an experience of his in 1888 Mr.

George Lagdon says," I had to give up my work." How this came to pass be tellads in a letter dated from his home in White House Road, Stebbing, near Dunmow, August 24, 1692. He had no inherited disease or weakness, so far as he knew, and was always strong and well up to April of that year-1888. Then his sirength | and energy began to leave him. He fell tired, not as from work, but is from power gone out of him through some bodily fullure. He sit down to his meals, but not with his old engermes and relish.
